

THE DAILY BULLETIN.

WEDNESDAY EVE., OCTOBER 8, 1884

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,

Publishers and Proprietors,
TO WHOM ADDRESS ALL COMMUNICATIONS

I'm wishing now, with all my heart,
I hadn't went and gone,
And thrust my head into the yoke
And put the harness on;
Because, you see, I'm much afraid,
I cannot make a run,
Like that I made when they backed me
In eighteen sixty-one.

The Kentucky Masonic Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Bowling Green, has assigned.

"Rough on Itch," cures humors, eruptions, ringworm, tetter, salt rheum, frost-bitten feet, chilblains.

According to the Signal Service calculations a cool wave is due in the Ohio valley this afternoon.

A hand-made cigar case, very handsome, will be raffled at the European Hotel to-night at 10 cents a chance.

The Cleveland, Hendricks and Powers clubs will meet at the court house next Friday evening. Don't fail to be there.

Mr. ROBERT F. MEANS has just put up in front of his lot in East Maysville a wire and iron fence, which is one of the handsomest in the city.

The funeral of Miss Charlotte Taylor will take place from the Church of the Nativity, this afternoon, at three o'clock. Services by Rev. B. Hudgins, the pastor.

The farm of Miss Eliza Walker, deceased, near Washington, was sold on Monday, at private sale, to Mr. James Tucker, Jr., for $130 an acre. The place contains seventy-three acres.

Don't forget the Democratic meeting at Aberdeen this evening. The Cleveland, Hendricks and Powers club and all other Democrats are invited. Let the Maysville delegation be a large one.

A DANCE given last night by Misses Lilly and Louisa Schatzmann, at their former residence, in the West End, was a very pleasant affair, and was attended by a large number of their acquaintances.

The colored Odd Fellows will parade at Cincinnati on Thursday, and lodges from the following places will attend: Mt. Sterling, Winchester, Lexington, Maysville, Mayslick, Washington, Paris and other cities.

Business Change.

The firm name of L. Foster & Co., proprietors of the Magnolia Flour Mills, in this city, has been changed to Foster & Sulser, Mr. George W. Sulser having bought a one-half interest in the business.

THE Missouri Steam Washer, said to be the best in use, can be seen at G. W. Geisel's store or at room No. 11, at the Hill House. It is something that every housekeeper ought to have. Mrs. Arch L. Scudder is the agent in this city. See advertisement elsewhere.

MESSES. A. B. GREENWOOD and C. M. Browning, have rented one of the stores in the Zweigart building and will open about the first of next month a stock of wall paper, window shades, paints, oils, varnishes, brushes and painter's supplies generally. Mr. Greenwood is a practical painter of long experience, and Mr. Browning is also well acquainted with the business. They invite their friends to call and see them.

The following interesting advice to men who attend Democratic conventions, was written by the editor of the Maysville Eagle. We find it in the issue of August 26th, 1883, about the time when Mr. Wadsworth was preparing to flop over to Grantism, and all that term implies:

"A man who submits his name to a convention must abide by its decision. It is known that conventions are often manipulated so that their action does not fairly represent the will of the people, but when a man goes into one he does so with his eyes open to the fact and agrees to take the chances. In the present instance the nominee must be supported by all. There will be no such nonsense as an independent candidate. Those who go before a convention and those who stay out of it, must alike submit to its action. The man who goes before it and bolts, will be dishonored. The man who does not go before it and runs independently, will act without patriotism or sense."

There is a sound opinion from one of Mr. Wadsworth's own managers. We commend it to the attention of his Democratic "personal friends" who are asked to bolt the Democratic nomination and vote to save the Sugar Loaf Sage from sinking.

The Barnum Street Parade.

No show has ever attempted to equal the glories and brilliant innovations of the famous Barnum and London Shows' matchless procession, one of which will occur here Saturday, October 18th. Like the performance itself, which marks the most conspicuous era in arena amusements, it is without a rival. The Chicago Daily Mail of September 1st, says of the pageant:

The Barnum-London Show excited high admiration by its street parade in Chicago to-day. It was the opening of a week's season, on the lake front. The parade was unique and curious in beauty and extravagance, and attracted great crowds of people in the streets through which the march was made. The golden chariots, gilded cages, wherein living beasts were exposed, and elaborate band wagons were all as attractive as they could possibly be. The ethnological congress and strange people were perched in conspicuous sight of all, and their nativity was plainly discerned. The herd of elephants, the harnessed dromedaries, the allegorical accessories, the jubilee singers, the bell chimers, the mammoth orchestra, the band, the magnificent steed of Percherons, the racing chariots, the cavalcade of lady riders, the mounted men, and, in fact, everything was given as advertised, and was quite successful. Barnum's season here promises to be very profitable. He has always been well patronized in this city, and he boasts that his entertainment is now better than ever before. Among the prominent features of the show, aside from the colossal Jumbo, the baby elephant and mother, and other rare animals, may be named the sacred elephant, purchased from King Thebaw, of Burmah, for $200,000, and the Burmese, Nubians, Afghans, Hindoos, Todas people, Nautch dancing girls, images and bronzes.

NAVAL ACADEMY.

Report of the Board of Visitors' Recommendations Made.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—The Board of Visitors to the United States Naval Academy for 1884, consisting of Rear Admiral R. W. Shufeldt, Mr. Robert C. Schenck, of Washington; Senators Pendleton and Angus Cameron; Representatives S. S. Cox, of Ohio, and John H. Evans, of Oregon; Mr. Dorman B. Eaton, of New York; Mr. Allen, of Boston; Professor Edward S. Joyner, of Columbia, South Carolina; and Messrs. E. S. Jewett, of Kansas, and William H. Upham, of Wisconsin, has made its report to Secretary Chandler. It is accompanied by a special report upon the conditions of admission to the Academy, prepared at the suggestion of the Board by Mr. Eaton.

The Board expresses the opinion that both legal analogies and the interest of justice and discipline at the Academy require that the cadets should be regarded as a part of the navy and be subject to courts martial in a form best adapted to the circumstances of the school.

A great improvement, the Board thinks, would follow upon the selection of candidates for cadetships at the Academy a year before the time of intended admission, and that the cadets should in any case be examined in time for the cruise at sea provided for new cadets.

In reference to the subjects of study the report says: "It is difficult to see how the studies proper to such an institution could be better selected, better arranged or more compactly comprehended within the limit of time possible in the present course of four years."

It is recommended that the Secretary of the Navy require a report to be made by the superintendent to the next meeting of the Board of Visitors, setting forth what advantages and disadvantages, if any, would accrue from the extension of the Naval Academy course from four to five years; what changes would thereby be made necessary or practicable in organization, in instructors or in course of study, and what would be the additional expense to the Government; also to add an outline of the course as so modified in all departments and any further suggestions deemed proper for consideration.

In the judgment of the Board, no change is desirable in the present standard of scholarship, whether for admission or subsequent graduation.

An extension of the grounds and the increase and improvement of quarters, both for officers and cadets, are earnestly recommended.

The discipline of the Academy seems to that could be desired, and the many social privileges gained by the good conduct of the cadets is the best proof of the discipline maintained.

The Board recommends such change in the law and practice of appointing visitors as will make a certain number to hold over each year.

In a special report Mr. Dorman B. Eaton of the Board, strongly opposes the present system of entering the Academy. He expresses the opinion that a larger number of cadets should be appointed and that the appointments to cadetship should be apportioned to the States and be made through competitive examinations.

THE DEED OF DASTARDS.

Attempting to Ditch and Rob a Passenger Train.

EMPORIA, Kas., Oct. 8.—Early Sunday morning, ten miles west of here, an attempt was made to rob the Santa Fe passenger train. The robbers evidently intended to ditch the train. Two rails were unscrewed but not removed. When the passenger train came along it was running at such a speed that it passed safely over the rails.

When the robbers saw the train flying by with the rich booty, they evidently became enraged, and fired a volley after it, the bullets striking the cars in several places. Fortunately no one was hurt, but following the passenger came a freight, which was ditched. The fireman was killed and the engineer seriously injured. Further particulars are not yet learned.

McCullough's Freaks.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8.—John McCullough passed a quiet day, but became violently agitated during Monday night. He went to the Union Depot and attempted to board a train, declaring he would go to New York. The conductor resisted his efforts and McCullough knocked him down. He then got into a buggy and started toward the river but was overtaken and taken to the hotel where he became quiet. His old friend, John W. Norton, manager of the Opera House, spent the night with him. He refuses to go to Hot Springs with Dr. Kelly, and insists upon either going to New York or opening his engagement here next week.

More Carelessness.

DES MOINES, Ia., Oct. 8.—A collision occurred on the Rock Island Road seven miles west of here by a freight train west bound train, trying to reach the station ahead of the regular passenger train bound east. The passenger supposed the line clear and thought it had the right of the line. J. E. Williams, mail agent, had both arms broken and was badly injured about the head. Mr. Bolton was badly bruised about the head and body. Both men are in a critical condition. No other persons were injured which is considered miraculous as the two trains were almost demolished.

Hobbed by Masked Men.

TITUSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 8.—While John Sherry, living near Edinburg, Clarion County, was eating supper five men, armed and masked, entered the room and ordered Sherry and the rest present to throw up their hands. Besides Sherry there were at the table two men, Michael Kiser and George Best, a servant girl and a boy. The entire five were bound and gagged. The robbers compelled Sherry to open his safe. They took from the safe $300. They continued their search until they had found in the bureau drawers and other places $5,000 in money. The robbers had a carriage waiting for them in the neighborhood. After telling Sherry that they would return and kill any one making an outcry, they departed and escaped. There is no clue to the gang, who are supposed to be members of an organized troop of marauders that have been committing numerous crimes in the neighborhood.

An Exploding Bomb.

LYONS, Oct. 8.—A bomb exploded under the windows of the police barracks in this city at an early hour Tuesday morning. The building was badly damaged, but the inmates escaped without injury.

DIED.

After seven weeks confinement and great suffering, LEONARD, son of Milton Fyles, or the 15th day of September, 1884. His excellent qualities of head and heart had made him many friends for one of his tender years. Many of the precious words he uttered during his sickness we can not forget. He said: "Though I am but a little boy all the old people like me. I should be very happy." He said, "I would like to live for the sake of my brothers, sisters and relatives, yet I am not afraid to die. I love and trust in the Savior. No place like heaven. Meet me in heaven." Precious child, not quite fourteen years old. For long weeks we watched over you almost in hope and despair, but we had to give you up. Your sweet voice, in word and song, we shall hear no more until we meet where tears shall be wiped from all faces and we shall die no more.
